PREAMBLE

We, the people of the free and sovereign State of New Columbia, seek to secure and provide for each person: health, safety and welfare; a peaceful and orderly life; and the right to legal, social, and economic justice and equality.

We recognize our unique and special history and the diversity and pluralism of our people, and we have determined to control our collective destiny, maximize our individual freedom, and govern ourselves democratically, guaranteeing to each individual and the people collectively, complete and equal exercise and protection of the rights listed herein.

We reach out to all the peoples of the world in a spirit of friendship and cooperation, certain that together we can build a future of peace and harmony.

Therefore, being mindful that government exists to serve every person, we do adopt this Constitution and establish this government.

ARTICLE I. BILL OF RIGHTS

Section 1. Freedom of Association, Assembly, Expression, and Petition. Freedom of association, assembly, press, speech, and other forms of expression, and petition for redress of grievances shall not be abridged.

Section 2. Freedom of Religion. The State shall establish no religion nor interfere with the free exercise thereof. No person shall be denied any right or privilege because of religious belief or the exercise thereof.

Section 3. Freedom from Discrimination. Every person shall have a fundamental right to the equal protection of the law and to be free from historic group discrimination, public or private, based on race, color, religion, creed, citizenship, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, poverty, or parentage. Affirmative action to correct consequences of past discrimination against women, and against racial and national minorities, shall be lawful.

Persons with disabilities shall have the right to be treated as equal community members and the right to services as defined by law provided in a way that promotes dignity and independence and full community participation.

Youth and seniors shall have the right to the enjoyment of health and well-being and to the services as provided by law necessary for their development and welfare. No adult shall be discriminated against in housing or employment on the basis of age, except that services limited to senior citizens may be provided.

It shall be unlawful to commit or incite acts of violence against persons or property based on race, color, religion, creed, national origin, sex, or sexual orientation.

Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged in the State or any of its subdivisions because of sex.

This section shall be self-executing and shall be enforced by appropriate legislation.

Section 4. Privacy. The right of the individual to decide whether to procreate or to bear a child is inviolable, as is the right to noncommercial private, consensual, sexual behavior of adults. Those who exercise or advocate these rights have, in addition, the right to be free from all forms of discrimination.

Political surveillance is contrary to democratic principles. Therefore, unless relevant for prosecution of past, present, or imminent crime, information on any person's exercise of freedom of religion, expression, association, assembly, or petition for redress of grievances, shall not be collected surreptitiously under color of law.

Individual privacy with respect to personal bank accounts, health, academic, employment, communications, and similar records, the disclosure of which would constitute an invasion of the privacy of the individual concerned, is a right, the protection of which shall be provided by law. However, the name, salary, and place of employment of each employee of the State and of any of its agencies or local government units is a matter of public record and shall be available to the public.

Section 5. Due Process. The State shall not deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law. The right of all persons to fair and just treatment in the course of legislative and executive investigations shall not be abridged.

Section 6. Searches and Seizures. Privacy is a fundamental right. Therefore, the people shall be free from unreasonable searches and seizures of their persons, homes, businesses, vehicles, papers, and effects. This right extends to all places and for all circumstances in which the individual has a reasonable expectation of privacy. The fruits of unlawful intrusions, including intrusions by private persons, shall not be used by the State for any purpose in any judicial or administrative proceeding against any individual, whether or not the individual was the target of an unlawful search or seizure, and whether or not the expectation of privacy of that individual was violated.

No search will ensue except under the authority of a valid warrant issued by a judicial officer; such warrant shall be issued only upon probable cause and must be supported by oath or affirmation describing with particularity the place to be searched and the persons or items to be seized. This Section does not preclude warrantless searches or seizures in the following circumstances: searches incident to a valid arrest; exigent circumstances under which officials conducting the search or seizure have no time to secure a warrant; inadvertent discovery of illegal material pursuant to the execution of a valid search warrant; searches and seizures conducted at international borders or their functional equivalent; administrative searches of pervasively regulated businesses pursuant to a general plan; and searches upon the consent of the individual who is the subject of the search or seizure, provided that the individual had been fully informed of the right to withhold consent, and no other exception to this Section is present. The official conducting the search bears the burden of proving fully informed consent.

The right to be secure against unreasonable interception of telephonic, telegraphic, electronic, and other forms of communication and against unreasonable interception of oral and other communications by electronic methods shall not be violated. No such interception shall occur except following issuance of a warrant. No orders or warrants for such interceptions shall be issued but upon probable cause supported by oath or affirmation that evidence of crime may be thus obtained, and particularly identifying the means of communication and the person or persons whose communications are to be intercepted. Evidence obtained in violation of this paragraph shall not be admissible in any court against any person.

Section 7. Rights of Arrestees and Defendants. In all criminal matters, all persons have the right to the assistance of competent counsel from commencement of a custodial interrogation, during trial and appeal, and whenever they are subject to a deprivation of liberty. When arrested they shall be informed of their right to consult with counsel. Persons charged with a crime have the right to receive an explicit statement of the nature and cause of the accusation, to the discovery of all evidence possessed by the State, and to the presumption of innocence until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. Convicted persons shall have the right to judicial review.

Section 8. Grand Jury. All persons have the right to be free from unwarranted or arbitrary prosecutions. The grand jury shall not engage in fishing expeditions. Grand jury indictments are required for all offenses carrying authorized prison sentences of one year or more. Grand jurors shall be drawn from a cross-section of the community. All grand jury witnesses shall have the right to assistance and presence of counsel, to be informed of the privilege against self-incrimination, and to be advised if they are, or may become, targets of prosecution. Criminal defendants are entitled to grand jury transcripts in a timely fashion.

The grand jury shall appoint and the State shall pay non-governmental counsel for independent advice. Indictments shall be issued only on probable cause and shall, upon motion, be dismissed for violations of this Section.

The House of Delegates shall determine the manner of grand jury selection and operation.

Section 9. Bail. The sole purpose of bail is to assure the presence of the accused at trial. Bail shall not be excessive and may take the form of a cash or property guarantee.

Section 10. Trial by Jury. Every person accused of a criminal offense is guaranteed the right to: a speedy, public, and fair trial; compulsory attendance of witnesses; confrontation with adversary witnesses; and trial by a jury of 12 persons. Conviction may be based only upon a unanimous jury verdict finding the accused guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

Section 11. Punishment. The State shall not require excessive fines, nor impose cruel, corporal, or unusual punishment, or sentence of death. Penal administration shall be based upon the principle of reformation with the objective of restoring the offender to a useful role in community life. Convicted persons shall not be denied any rights specified in this Constitution except as shall be reasonably necessary for the security of a penal institution or the State and its citizens.

Section 12. Imprisonment for Debt. No person shall be imprisoned for inability to pay a debt.

Section 13. Double Jeopardy. No person shall be tried more than once for the same offense; further, the State shall try in a single trial all charges, actual and potential, arising from the same facts and circumstances. Trial of a person for an offense in any jurisdiction of the United States and subsequent trial under the jurisdiction of the State for the same offense based on the same set of facts and circumstances shall constitute double jeopardy under this Section.

Section 14. Bills of Attainder and Ex Post Facto Laws. Bills of attainder and ex post facto laws are prohibited.

Section 15. Habeas Corpus. The writ of habeas corpus shall be available promptly at all times, successively, and without limit in all cases of unlawful detention, conviction, or sentencing, whether or not the petitioner is in custody.

Section 16. Abolition of Common Law Criminal Offenses. Every crime shall be defined with specificity in a statute enacted by the House of Delegates, and no person shall be accused, arrested, tried, or convicted for any act not expressly defined as an offense by such statute. This Section shall take effect after the expiration of a time period to be specified by law.

Section 17. Abolition of Sovereign Immunity. Unless otherwise provided in this Constitution, the State and any of its subordinate levels of government, and any branch, agency and office thereof, and any officer or agent thereof in both official and personal capacity, shall be amenable to suit and liability in the courts of this State or of the United States, with respect to official acts both of commission and omission, including the failure, inability, or refusal by law enforcement agencies of the State to provide reasonable protection to individuals from crimes of violence; except that, no judge of any court may be sued with respect to a decision rendered in any case, but may be questioned and required to testify as to issuance of any warrant.

Section 18. Slavery and Involuntary Servitude. Slavery and involuntary servitude are prohibited.

Section 19. Civil Suits. The right to a jury trial in a civil suit shall remain inviolate. The House of Delegates shall assure access to courts for those litigants unable to pay. Court costs shall not be required of any litigant unable to pay.

Section 20. Right to Employment. Every person shall have the right to employment, or if unable to work, an income sufficient to meet basic human needs.

Section 21. Equal Pay. All employees shall be guaranteed equal pay for equal work and equal pay for comparable work.

- Section 22. The Right to Change. The State with its institutions belongs to the people who inhabit it. Whenever a government fails to serve its people, they may exercise their inalienable right to alter, reform, or abolish it.
- Section 23. Unenumerated Rights. The enumeration in this Constitution of certain rights possessed by the individual or limitations upon the government shall not be construed to disparage nor deny other rights or limitations not enumerated.
- Section 24. Self-Execution. All Sections of this Article shall be self-executing.

ARTICLE II. THE LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

- Section 1. Legislative Power. The legislative power of the State shall be vested in the legislature, which shall be called the House of Delegates.
- Section 2. Composition of the House of Delegates. The House of Delegates shall have one chamber composed of 40 members who are elected from single-member legislative districts. By majority vote of the Delegates present and voting, the House of Delegates shall elect a President from among its members.
- Section 3. Qualifications of Members. A candidate for the House of Delegates must be a citizen of the United States. To become a Delegate, a candidate must receive the highest number of votes on the designated day of election from the qualified voters of the legislative district.
- A Delegate must be at least 18 years old, a resident of the State for at least three years, a resident of the legislative district for at least 18 months, and a registered voter of that district. Every Delegate must reside in the legislative district while in office.
- Section 4. Disqualifications. While in office, no appointed or elected Delegate may hold any other federal or state elected or appointed public office, position of profit, or employment. During the term of office, no member shall be elected or appointed to any public office or employment which shall have been created, or the salary or benefits of which shall have been increased, by legislative act during such term. This Section does not apply to Delegates seeking re-election, or election to a constitutional convention.
- Section 5. Term in Office. A Delegate shall be elected for a four-year term.
- Section 6. Time of Election. In general elections, half the Delegates will be elected in every even-numbered year. Following their election, winning candidates shall assume office on the second Monday of January.
- Section 7. Vacancies. Legislative vacancies shall be filled as provided by law.
- Section 8. Compensation of Members. The members of the House of Delegates shall receive annual salaries and such allowances as may be prescribed by law. However, any increase or decrease in salary or allowances shall not apply to a Delegate serving in the House of Delegates which enacted the increase or decrease until the re-election of that Delegate.

The Governor shall appoint, subject to the advice and consent of the House of Delegates, members of a five-member commission. Every four years, this commission shall report to the public the level of legislative compensation that is appropriate, taking into account comparable compensation in the public and private sectors. The members of the commission shall hold no other public office. Procedures for the establishment and operation of the commission shall be established by law.

Section 9. Sessions. The House of Delegates shall be a continuing body during the term for which Delegates are elected; however, all unapproved pending bills shall expire automatically on the second Monday in January of each odd-numbered year. The House of Delegates shall meet in regular sessions annually, as provided by law. It may also be convened by the Governor, subject to the conditions of Article III, or by the President of the House of Delegates at the written request of a majority of all Delegates.

Adequate advance notice of all meetings of the House of Delegates and of its committees shall be published. The notice shall include the agenda. All meetings of the House of Delegates and of its committees shall be open to the public, to the press, and to radio and television coverage. However, meetings involving confidential discussions of specific staff personnel may be closed by a two-thirds vote of the House of Delegates or the committee.

Section 10. Organization and Procedure. The courts shall be the final judge of the election and qualifications of Delegates. The House of Delegates shall prescribe its rules of procedure which shall be consistent with this Constitution. It may compel the attendance of absent members, discipline its members, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds of all members, expel a member for cause. It shall have power to compel the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of books and papers either before the House of Delegates as a whole or before any of its committees.

Section 11. Legislative Immunity. For any speech or debate in the House of Delegates, Delegates shall not be questioned in any other place.

Section 12. Transaction of Business. A majority of all Delegates shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day and compel the attendance of absent members. The House of Delegates and its committees shall keep journals of proceedings. Each journal shall be available to the public and shall also be promptly published. The journal shall contain all motions made and the votes on those motions. A record vote, with the yeas and nays entered into the journal, shall be taken in the House of Delegates on any vote deciding final passage or defeat of a bill, on any vote to defer consideration of a question indefinitely, and on any vote on the demand of four members. In committee, upon demand of any member, or on any vote deciding final approval of a report, the yeas and nays shall be recorded and entered into the journal.

A verbatim or electronically produced record of proceedings of the House of Delegates and of standing committees shall be made available to the public on request.

Section 13. Committees. The House of Delegates may establish committees necessary for the conduct of its business.

Section 14. Bills. The House of Delegates shall enact no law except by bill. The subject of every law shall be clearly expressed in its title. Each law shall have an enacting clause as follows: "Be it enacted by the people of the State of New Columbia." No bill embracing more than one subject shall be passed except appropriation bills which shall include only appropriations and bills for the codification or revision of the laws. All laws shall be published. Whenever a law or section of law is amended, it shall be re-enacted and republished. Every law shall be plainly worded.

Section 15. Passage of Bills. No bill shall become law unless

- (a) a majority of the entire House of Delegates has approved it in identical form on two occasions at least 13 calendar days apart and the bill had been printed and distributed at least three calendar days in advance on both occasions; or
- (b) the Governor has certified that prompt passage, precluding a time lapse of 13 days, is essential, and a majority of all Delegates approve the bill.

Section 16. Approval or Veto. All bills approved by the House of Delegates, except those relating solely to legislative procedure, shall be presented to the Governor for signature or for veto. The Governor may, by veto, strike items in appropriation bills. The Governor shall veto other bills only as a whole. The Governor shall promptly return any vetoed bill or item of appropriation to the House of Delegates with a statement of objections. A bill shall become law if the Governor either signs it or does not veto it within 15 days of presentation.

Section 17. Legislative Action Upon Veto. Upon receipt of a veto, the House of Delegates shall promptly reconsider passage of the vetoed bill or appropriation item. Such a bill or item requires only one reading. A vetoed bill shall become law by the affirmative votes of two-thirds of all Delegates, except that a veto of an appropriation bill or item shall be overridden by the affirmative votes of two-thirds of the Delegates present and voting.

If the House of Delegates is not in session when a bill or item is vetoed, the House of Delegates may consider the bill or item at its next regular or special session.

Section 18. Effective Date of Laws. No law shall take effect earlier than 90 days after enactment except laws declared to be emergency laws and laws which under this Constitution are not subject to referendum. An emergency law shall contain a preamble setting forth the facts constituting the emergency and a statement that the law is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, safety, or convenience. A separate recorded vote shall be taken on the preamble, and unless the preamble is adopted by two-thirds of the members of the House of Delegates present and voting, the law shall not be an emergency law.

Section 19. Auditor. The House of Delegates shall appoint an auditor to serve for six years or until a successor has been appointed. By a two-thirds vote of all Delegates, the House of Delegates at any time may remove the auditor from office for cause. Each year the auditor shall conduct a thorough audit of all State government accounts and operations and shall submit these audit reports to the Governor and to the House of Delegates. The House of Delegates shall make available these reports and distribute summaries to the public.

Section 20. Impeachment. Any executive official elected or appointed with legislative consent is subject to legislative impeachment for cause as may be provided by law.

Impeachment shall originate in the House of Delegates and must be approved by the affirmative votes of two-thirds of all Delegates.

The motion for impeachment shall state the reasons for the proceeding.

Trial on impeachment shall be conducted by the House of Delegates in accordance with procedures provided by law. A Justice of the Supreme Court shall preside at the trial.

Conviction requires the affirmative votes of two-thirds of all Delegates.

The judgment on conviction may not extend beyond removal from office and disqualification to hold and enjoy any state office of honor, trust, or profit but shall not prevent proceedings in the courts on the same or related charges.

Section 21. Code of Ethics. The House of Delegates shall enact conflict-of-interest legislation which shall apply to all elected and appointed State and local candidates for and officials in the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of government. The conflict-of-interest legislation shall include, but not be limited to, requirements for mandatory annual disclosure by public officials of economic interests and sources of income. A Delegate who has personal or private interests, as defined by law, in any proposed or pending bill, shall disclose this fact to the presiding officer and shall not vote on that bill.

A Judge or Justice shall also be removed from office upon affirmance of an appeal from an order of removal filed in the Supreme Court by the Commission on Judicial Disabilities and Tenure (or upon expiration of the time within which such an appeal may be taken) after a determination by that Commission of willful misconduct in office, willful and persistent failure to perform judicial duties, or any other conduct which is prejudicial to the administration of justice.

A Judge or Justice shall be involuntarily retired from office when the Commission on Judicial Disabilities and Tenure determines that the Judge or Justice suffers from a mental or physical disability, including habitual intemperance, which is or is likely to become permanent and which prevents, or seriously interferes with, the proper performance of judicial duties, and that Commission files in the Supreme Court an order of involuntary retirement and the order is affirmed on appeal or the time within which an appeal may be taken has expired.

The House of Delegates may limit the time within which matters shall be transferred.
